How to find excellent sources online for your research aka “How can I tell if something is credible????”

Check this:
1. Does the author identify his/herself? Do they have any expertise in the area they are writing about?
2. Is the information related to your topic [is it relevant]?
3. Do they include a bibliography [citations] so you can tell where they got their info from?
4. Does the author have a bias [point-of-view] or is the information objective [facts, not opinions]
   What do ‘domains’ [ends of URLs] mean?
6. When did they publish the information? Is it up-to-date or super old?
